

■ At 20 large U.S. banks, the cost of complying with U.S. laws and regulations grew 159 percent from 2001 to 2006, far faster than profit growth, an industry survey found. It costs the average big bank $83.5 million a year to keep up with Sarbanes-Oxley, the Patriot Act, and other laws.

BusinessWeek